ABOUT ME

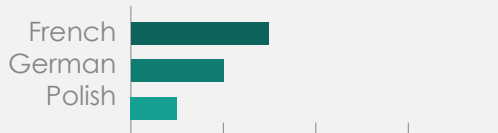

I was born in Colombia and did a Service Design Master course in Italy. I have working experience in different places around Europe and in consequence, I have a particular profile. I'm a person who is open for challenges and therefore, adapts to different situations. I like to discover new places in terms of culture and know-how. As designer, it's important to keep curious in order to pick up the most out of each place and experienced lived. Design is in the details and sometimes, you can find them in the most unexpected spots. So stay hungry, stay fool!
